OFFSET PRESS

Offset Press

A.B.Dick 4995A-ICS 4-Color Offset Press

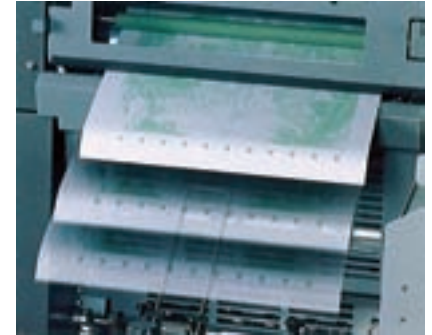

Today, short-run, multi-color printing is very popular. Therefore, an easy-to-use, economical four-tower press that delivers excellent printed results has become highly desirable. Our answer: the compact, yet powerful A.B.Dick 4995A-ICS Offset Press.

This versatile press was developed in response to the market's demand for a portrait-format, four-color performance offset - one that's suitable for short and long runs, easily handles economical polyester-based plates, as well as metal, and runs a wide variety of stocks via a vacuum-enabled stream feeder.

All types of full color projects can be delivered - easily and cost-effectively.

Numerous features and automated functions simplify operation, reduce make-ready time and enhance productivity while producing the high-quality prints your customers will appreciate. Digital compatibility assures its place in electronically enhanced workflows.

The addition of the four-tower A.B.Dick 4995A-ICS Offset Press to the product line demonstrates continued commitment to providing high quality equipment that meets the ever-evolving needs of our customers.

Professional features such as the computerized Ink Control System (ICS) and the semi-automatic plate changing help efficiently manage the increasing amount of multi-color work.

BLANKETS

Printing Blankets

Printing blankets are produced in large rolls ranging up to 60 yards in length and 84" in width. The heavy weight of the blanket material hinders producing the material in larger rolls. Once the material is layered, heated, melted and cured according to specification it is rolled up into master rolls and sold to master converters.

Converters will mount, cut, punch and bar material to press specifications. There are numerous manufacturers worldwide producing blankets. Each manufacturer offers many different blanket types, each having its own specially designed formula to meet demanding press needs.
